Patricia Brown (nee FitzGerald) passed away on Sunday November 23, 2025 at her residence in Florissant, Missouri at the age of 83.

Patricia was born on September 22, 1942 in St. Louis, Missouri to the late James and Justine FitzGerald.

Patricia is survived by her children: Daniel P. (Debbie) O'Connor III and Teresa (Albert) Middeke; sister, Maureen McNeill; step-children: John (Deb) Brown, Paul (Michelle) Brown, and Michael (Amy) Brown; grandchildren: Daniel O'Connor IV, Dylan O'Connor, Aiden Middeke, Jessica (Michael) Redman, Justin (Megan) Brown, Taylor (Will) Springer, Danielle (Mark) Berra, Mackenzie Brown, Matthew Brown, Brayden Brown, Kinley Brown, and Ashton Brown; and great-grandchildren: Zane, Bennett, Hayes, Liam, Noah, Maisyn, and Carter.

Patricia was a devoted conservationist and an extreme advocate for Mother Earth and all animals. She found great joy in feeding birds and squirrels and spent countless hours appreciating the beauty of nature around her. Patricia cherished time with her grandchildren, especially sharing in their activities and creating lasting memories together. She enjoyed playing bridge, golfing, and giving back to causes close to her heart. A dedicated volunteer at Five Acres Animal Shelter, Patricia lived her values through service, kindness, and deep respect for all living things.

Pat and I both had a soft spot for the FELV cats at the shelter. She was hard working and always doing what was best for the cats. That included giving kitties who had been at the shelter awhile a home with her. I'll miss our conversations on Sunday. Pat will be missed by the shelter, everyone who knew her and all the cats she cared for. Rest in peace.
